

Arts101 Professional Development Series

The Arts101 Professional Development Series is a collection of training videos supporting foundational knowledge in arts integration and the basic elements of the various arts disciplines.

Each video follows a natural progression of understanding and includes hands-on learning opportunities. Sessions are presented in short recordings, or chunks, to maximize engagement, provide flexibility, and support the cognitive processing that facilitates learning capacity and comprehension.

The Arts101 Professional Development Series is available for your school to use in a variety of settings. Contact your MWS Field Advisor to learn more and to schedule your training.

Descriptions of training sessions

Arts Integration 101

This series of videos introduces and examines the role of the arts in the school setting, then guides the learner through a classroom lesson to examine arts integration in practice.

Session 1: An Exploration of the Arts in the Classroom, 10:15

This session examines the different uses of the arts in the school setting and provides a foundation upon which participants will build their knowledge of arts integration.

Application Activity – 10 minutes

Session 2: A Closer Look at Arts Integration, 23:34

This session provides an examination of an arts integrated lesson, providing participants a deeper understanding of its purpose, place, and effectiveness in the school.

Application Activity – 25 minutes

Session 3: Interactive Discussion with MWS Field Advisor, tbd

This is a live session and should be scheduled with the school's MWS Field Advisor. The Arts Leadership Team members will reflect and share grade level team reflections from the video lessons identified in the Session 2 handout materials.

Session 4: The Wrap Up, 7:07

This session synthesizes information from all previous sessions and supports participants in connecting all aspects of arts integration. Additional resources and suggestions for implementation are included.

Dance 101

This series of videos introduces dance as an intrinsic element of human nature and expressive form of communication.

Session 1: Body and Energy, 14:43

This video introduces and explores the concepts of body and energy in dance, encouraging the viewer to apply understanding through participation.

Session 2: Space and Time, 13:47

This video introduces and explores the concepts of space and time through application and participation.

Music 101

This series of videos introduces and examines the elements of Music through active listening and hands-on learning strategies.

Session 1: Prelude, 4:18

This video provides an introduction to the Mississippi Whole Schools Music 101 Video Series and the five elements of music. The differences between passive listening and attentive listening will be examined.

Session 2: Rhythm, 13:03

This video provides an examination of rhythm as the organization of musical time. The training includes an overview of musical beat, meter, tempo, and metrical patterns.

Session 3: Melody, 6:14

This session provides an understanding of melody in music. What is it that you are humming? It's the Melody!

Session 4: Timbre, 8:53

This video offers a closer look at tone color in music. The ability to distinguish between different voices and instruments is all about timbre.

Session 5: Texture, 7:17

This video focuses on the element of texture as musical space, the vertical aspect of music. Does the music sound thick or thin?

Session 6: Form, 11:34

This video allows you to discover some of the inner structures of music. Are you hearing repetition or contrast?

Theatre 101
